

BI-WEEKLY

LOWLIGHTS

EDITION 1 VOLUME 1 JAN. 31, 1977 CIRC. - 250 PRICE - FREE (WOW)

The bi-weekly for those who don't have time to read the Herald Examiner

Welcome to the first issue of "LOWLIGHTS BI-WEEKLY." The name is- if you can't figure it out- a take off of the school newspapers name. Our purpose in this every-other-week publication is to acquaint you with the people in your school and the surrounding area. We will deal in all types of yellow journalism, smut, gossip and trashy humor. An occasional Rock Review might bless these pages, as well as critical analysis of movies and restaurants.

You may well find your own name written here. We are always watching out for any embarrassing or unusual circumstance to exaggerate and blow out of proportion, so you can be sure if you've done something dumb, or were anywhere near an unusual incident we'll have it all recorded within these hallowed pages.

So now on with the first issue festivities of "LOWLIGHTS BI-WEEKLY."

COMBO LUNCH GOING TO THE DOGS

Haven't had a good lunch in weeks and yet you still continue to eat at the lunch line. This food isn't meant to be good, just meant to be nutritious (Meant to be). Think about what you'll get at the combo line this lunch line.

FRENCH FRIES - Or are they dental floss?

CHOCOLATE MILK - Dredged off shore at San Pedro after a Liberian freighter docks.

HAMBURGER - Certificate of pedigree comes in each package.

SALAD - Now, this varies. It can be gelatine mucus or wilted willow bark with some dressing that's lumpy with platelets and fibrogen.

PIZZA - So good Alpo asked for it by name.

POOR BOY - The name mourns the gender of student meat used.

STUDENT HAVE NOTHING IN STORE

The student store finally got bright and stopped selling such great items as Lip Gloss (Which was only selling to the soccer team anyway), aerosol bubble gum, and lined paper (diagonally) and have turned the place into a diabetic's nightmare. They must have got the hint that those other items have no market in this school. They finally figured out that you have to be more discreet than billboards to sell condoms. And what happened to the ruling that you can't sell candy during lunch. Did the American Dermatological Society just discover that the face breaks out less between the hours of 12 and 1. Last is that name Huntington's Hut. I think we should make a Huntington Hunt and get that person rubbed out. Whoever thought up that name had better come to the lost and found, your imagination is waiting for you.

GREETINGS FROM LARRY LUCAS

Hi children (though when I say that I'm addressing myself), and all of you reading this paper. I am glad that someone has finally started an underground newspaper, because if they hadn't I would have had one initiated under the auspices of the Graphic Arts department. I hope this paper really gets down on my administration, cause I really want to be fined, so that I have more time to traipse around in my home, in front of mirror, admiring my own tacky clothes. Thank Me Very Much For My Time.

This is national "Beat up the Bald" week. So, thought we might give some perspective victims all of them. But, of course, here is a

This is national "Beat up the Bald Week." So we thought we might give you some perspective victims, all of them bald of course. So without further adieu here is the list we have prepared;

Mr. Zeller..... Zealous Math Teacher
Tori Reese..... Large Student
Mrs. Steinberg..... Human Goodyear Advertisement
Mrs. Guy..... Math Teacher, Wears Toupee
Randy Bernhard..... Confirmed Loudmouth
Mr. Harlow..... Spanish Teacher Extrodinaire
Mr. Guyer..... Water Hazard in the Fairway of Life
Mr. Scott..... Hell dance his heart out for a dime.

This list was compiled soley for your enjoyment or otherwise. These people are all fictional characters and are not alive at all. Any resemblance to living persons is purely intentional.

ROCK REVIEW - Alice Cooper - "Goes to Hell"

The album title has the verb "to go" in the wrong tense. In fact only two of the tracks are even worth scratching and they are both on the single "I Never Cry". To get an idea how much this album is devoted to finey lyrics and musical style try playing it with a 16d nail driven through a dixie cup. Then compare with a real turntable. How do they say it? No difference (in french tone of voice). Don t use a galvanized nail or the lyrics become legible.

Critical Analysis - A STAR IS BORN.

Of the movies I haven t seen this year this might as well be the best. Barbra Streisand has acted in other movies. So has Kris Kristoferson. Barbra & Kris have sung before. With a team like that how can a movie miss? Warner Bros. uses good film. They probably used good film this time too. That makes for a good film.

GOSSIP

Ever wondered how JEAN FLAGHERTY recieved the part of the virgin in a "Funny Thing", as the cast calls it? So has her boyfriend. DERICK LASALLA has decided to change his name because he feels the one he has is too foreign sounding. His new name will be Sir Heidrik Von Simpson Boulgredia II. VERN VALLEROCAMP sleeps and makes love with Raggedy Andy dolls strapped to his bedposts. MR. GEIER is now like all insects going through metamorphosis. He is going from the larvae stage to the adult stage which means that when he exits his cocoon he should be a respectable teacher. MR. MCGUCKIN still hangs around slow women. FATHER AASE told us secretly that awards were important, though he added "Only if it has my name engraved on them." After discovering last week's announcement about his love for Lesla RANDY HILL attempted to commit suicide by throwing himself off of a pair of Earth Shoes. A school STATE OF THE BUDGET message was given at the last administration council meeting. The results were that no money was spent but "We haven t gotten anything done either, so the money wasn t wasted." We wish to say thanks to LARRY LUCAS for making a statement about this being our first edition and hope that he will come up in these pages more often as the butt of our jokes or the victim of our humourous respites.
